CUSTOM HOME COLLECTION

This one and a half story home from Design Basics® offers plenty of possibilities for your family to grow from newlyweds to retirement. Just starting out, the first floor living is convenient for two, but allows for guests to enjoy a private second floor.

It's a good thing we have the dining/flex area, it can be turned into a perfect nursery or play room with just the addition of doors. There is still plenty of dining space in the eat-in kitchen.

When everyone is home, the upstairs offers family bedrooms and the dining space can be a study for that working parent or busy school days.

And when you're all alone again, you have the convenience of one floor living with room for the grandchildren upstairs.

And we're not even going to mention all that future finish space in the lower level. It's just too perfect. So let's get started, the sooner you get going, the quicker you'll be...Home at Last.
