

Sometimes, simple living is the best.

Okay, let's face it, most of the time, simple living is the best. When everything is compact and convenient, we live happier lives. Hence, we bring you the "Coro" home plan.

This home epitomizes the concept of small spaces with big style. We have managed to fit two bedrooms and two baths into this comfortable home, while still giving you the option to turn the third bedroom into something you really, really want.

Enjoy the farmhouse kitchen—you'll have lots of nights of dinners and games and good old-fashioned family living in this space.

Use the living area for that media space you can't live without, or add a fireplace and make it the perfect sanctuary. We know if you put your thinking cap on, you'll come up with even more ways to make this the perfect house for you and your family and friends and maybe pets, but no in-laws. You have to draw the line somewhere. Otherwise you won't feel like you are...Home at Last.
